

SQUARED Methods

Harness the power of Technology...

SQUARED Methods was founded with one mission; to help our customers harness the power of technology through agile and pragmatic use of technology investments and execution strategy that drives measurable business outcomes!

Businesses are constantly looking for ways to gain competitive advantage. With advances in technology, IT is no longer a supporting function for most businesses, instead; it is a true separator between leaders and other organizations trying to catch up.

While most organizations use IT partners to assist in deploying technology, very few organizations actually derive true business impact without spending a fortune on IT suppliers. At SQUARED Methods, we believe there are always better ways to help our customers get total value from the IT investments. Our approach is based on a simple yet powerful philosophy called SQUAReDNA; which focuses on our Customers and delivering value to our customers, while Reward results and tangible outcomes. SQUAReDNA philosophy allows us to focus on our customer's needs and go to any lengths to ensure customers get the best possible returns on their IT investments.

SQUARED Methods focuses on four key areas. Business Process Engineering, Data Management and Business Intelligence, Information Assurance and Global Consulting Services. These focus areas help us create an IT strategy that is aligned with business objective, create architectures that drive agility and deliver measurable value to in an organized way to help businesses propel to next level.

We believe that by helping organizations establish effective strategy and architecture foundation, our customers will have a clear direction for deploying IT capabilities. Our Consulting Services arm simply delivers the capability compliant with our strategy and architecture.

What separates us from other consulting companies is that we will never propose a piece of work unless it truly delivers value to our customers; Value that can be measured, and delivered in a way that combines the technology investments and knowledge of our consultants in best possible way.

Our goal is to deliver value to you as soon as we get in, so you can concentrate on your business objectives, and not on managing your solution vendors who are always eager to put more hours for their own interests. We put your interest and objectives first. Our success is measures using one most critical measure; Customer Success. Our vision of becoming your most "Trusted" IT Partner depends on it!

SQUARED Methods - Practice Areas

SQUARED Methods offers services in four practice areas: Business Process Engineering, Data Management & Big Data, Information Assurance and Global Consulting

Business Process Engineering

Nothing is more important than aligning the IT investments and initiatives with the Business Processes and Objectives. Our BPE practice is focused around exactly that! From establishing business roadmap to mapping IT capabilities to required Business capabilities and processes, BPE practice provides full coverage across key business alignment areas

Data Management & Business Intelligence

Practice is centered on gaining maximum value from your critical data assets. Whether it is Master Data or Big Data, we will help you create a measurable KPI driven practice so you can extract maximum value from your data to propel your business to growth.

Information Assurance

This practice is about ensuring that your organization's data is only accessible to people and systems with appropriate credentials and putting in place a comprehensive methods to ensure security of your data assets is never compromised

Global Consulting Services

Global Consulting Services offers consulting services in wide ranging areas from IT Strategy, Enterprise Architecture to application development, system testing, staff augmentation, project/program management to support your business strategy

Our Philosophy.... SQUAReDNA

- Focus on Customer's needs
- Reward results, not just effort
- Strive to deliver true business impact
- Everything we do MUST deliver value to our customers

“Be the change you want to see around you”

- Mahatma Gandhi

SQUARED Methods

Harness the power of Technology...

Contact Us Today!

(703) 310 7700

info@squaredMethods.com

www.squaredMethods.com

@2015 SQUARED Methods: All rights reserved